HANCOCK SHAKER VILLAGE

by Ben Garver - December 16

Join us on Wednesday, December 16th, as Ben Garver takes us on a photographic journey through the Hancock Shaker Village.

Ben Garver has been photographing news at The Berkshire Eagle for two decades and photographing nature since his youth. Before living in the Berkshires, Ben lived in New Hampshire, Vermont and his native Ohio. From growing up on his father's farm, going to school at Middlebury College in Vermont to living in the Berkshires, all of Ben's intellectual pursuits have been paralleled with the pursuit of solace in nature.

The Shakers trace their beginnings to Manchester, England, in 1747. They called themselves The United Society of Believers in Christ's Second Appearing and soon became known as Shakers because of the trembling, whirling, and shaking they engaged in during ecstatic worship services. They came to America in 1774, seeking freedom to live, work and worship.

The Hancock community, the third of nineteen major Shaker villages established in New England, New York, Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana, grew under the leadership of Joseph Meacham and Lucy Wright, with land donated by converted farmers. At the peak of its success in the 1840s, the Hancock community had more than 3,000 acres and 300 members. The community gradually declined, in part due to the urban migration that followed the Industrial Revolution. By the early 1900s, only 50 members remained, most of them children. Eventually, excess land was sold and many buildings were destroyed. Concerned citizens stepped in to preserve the Village in the 1960s.

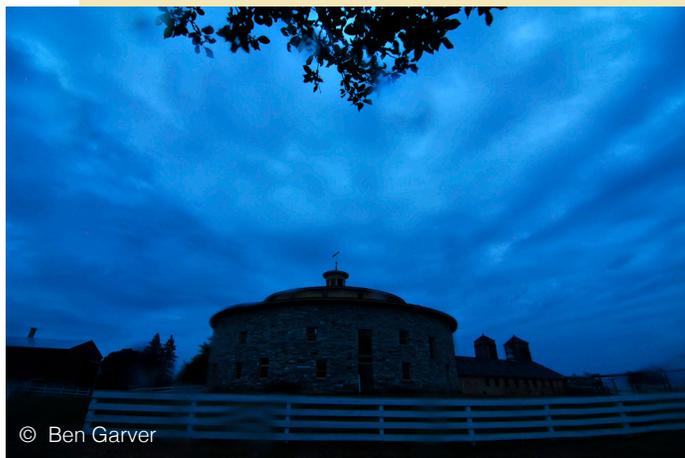

Today, the 750-acre Hancock Shaker Village operates as a living-history museum open to the public with 20 authentic Shaker buildings, costumed interpreters, rich collections of Shaker furniture and artifacts in rotating exhibits, a full schedule of activities and workshops, a mile-long hiking trail and picnic areas, a Village Store and Village Cafe, and a working farm with extensive gardens and heritage-breed livestock. Hancock Shaker Village is located on Route 20 in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, just west of the junction of Routes 20 and 41. Open every day during the season, plan to visit them in 2016 from April 16 to October 30.

The Focus is published ten times a year by the Schenectady Photographic Society. SPS promotes and presents informative programs, activities and competitions in the photographic arts for photographers throughout the Capital District. Over 100 members, ranging from novice to expert, share the theory, application and fun of photography at Society meetings. We meet Wednesdays at 7:30 pm from October through May at the First United Methodist Church, 603 State Street, Schenectady, NY. (Parking and entrances are on Chapel Street, a one-way street off Nott Terrace.) The Schenectady Photographic Society is a member of the Photographic Society of America. Visitors and guests are always welcomed. For more information on our Club and the current season calendar check out our website: spsphoto.org.

ARGENTINA - December 2

Presented by Joan Heffler

"I've traveled far and wide across the world and when I had an opportunity to travel to Argentina with one of my ballroom dance friends, I put my dancing shoes on and away we went. Buenos Aires, Iquazu Falls, and Mendoza were our three stops in this most vast and colorful country. Marvel at the tango tango of Buenos Aires. Be prepared to be awed from the Falls in Iquazu spanning two countries. And enjoy the Malbec from Mendoza. This 20 minutes musical video presentation will have you booking a flight to Argentina!"

FREQUENCY SEPARATION FOR PORTRAIT RETOUCHING

December 9 - Presented by Sean Sullivan

Sean will be giving a demonstration of Frequency Separation Technique...virtually a process of decomposing image data into spatial frequencies (in this case tone and color) in order to edit image details in the different frequencies independently. There can be any number of frequencies in each image, and each frequency will contain certain information (based on the size of the details). Many other techniques used to fix skin problems can make for an unnatural look to the image (i.e., the porcelain skin look). Using this technique, you can edit the tone or color of the skin or texture independently thus preserving the natural look and feel of the model. He will be providing links to more details, videos and Photoshop Actions during his discussion. A must see for you portrait photographers!

PSA INTERCLUB COMPETITIONS

The new season of PSA Interclub Competitions is well under way. There are five (5) categories in total, with four competitions coming up in December and January:

Deadline for December:
PSA PID - December 20

Deadlines for January:
PSA Nature - January 5
PSA Photojournalism - January 5
PSA PID Creative - January 20

The Photographic Society of America, of which the Schenectady Photographic Society is a club member, sponsors a number of interclub competitions and SPS participates in many of them. Details about specific competitions will be announced at society meetings regarding our participation in a competition, the open entry periods, deadlines for submission, submission guidelines.

You may also find more information regarding the individual competitions on the PSA website:

Images can be uploaded on the SPS website (www.spsphoto.org).

WE HAVE A WINNER!

CONGRATULATIONS TO CONNIE FRISBEE HOUE
for her perfect score of 15 and placing third in the November PSA Travel Competition.
Her image is titled, "Bags of Charcoal."

IN CASE YOU MISSED IT...

Dan Steen was kind enough to share some of the images he took at last month's meeting (November 11th),

Jeff Plant shared some of his wonderful flower macro slides. Yes, slides...remember those? We're all going out to buy pinwheels now!

*Projected judge,
Evan Lauber*

Sean Sullivan and Bob Coppola.

GREETINGS FROM NORTH CAROLINA (Via Bob Riccardo)

I had breakfast with Frank Bumbardatore on the 23rd in North Carolina. He is very happy and is enjoying his new life and best of all, he said, instead of being ten hours from his grandchildren, he is now only 5 minutes away. He said to say hello to all and wishes everyone Happy Holidays.

WEATHER ALERT!

Some of us do like snow...but it certainly wreaks havoc on our meetings!

This is just a reminder that, in the event of inclement weather PLEASE check your e-mail and the SPS website before heading out.

In the event of bad weather it is up to the Program Chair to determine if a meeting will be held. Although we hate to cancel or postpone our meetings, your safety is our main concern.
